

- FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE -

BOND IS BACK WITH MI6 DECLASSIFIED ISSUE #4

ISSUE #4 OUT NOW

(London, UK, October 23rd, 2008) Bond is back! Was it possible to squeeze in 007 star Daniel Craig, director Marc Forster, and producers Michael G. Wilson & Barbara Broccoli all talking about the 22nd James Bond adventure in to a regular issue? No! Which is why MI6 Declassified issue #4 is an extended "Quantum of Solace" bumper special edition that includes an in-depth look behind the scenes of the new film, crammed with exclusive photographs you won't see anywhere else.

Along with features on the villain, girls, and tie-in videogame, you'll come to regard this of MI6 Declassified as your companion to "Quantum of Solace" as it opens in theatres around the world.

The fourth issue includes:

- Solace Is Golden - Go behind the scenes of Quantum of Solace through six countries and its 103 day shooting schedule, packed with exclusive photographs
- Bond vs. Greene - Daniel Craig and Mathieu Amalric talk about their characters' adversarial relationship
- Meet The New Bond Girls - Introducing Olga Kurylenko as the feisty Camille and Gemma Arterton as Agent Fields
- Daniel Craig and Marc Forster on 007 - The director and James Bond star talk to MI6 Declassified about 22nd adventure and how the character has evolved
- Round-Table Interview - Producers Michael G. Wilson and Barbara Broccoli discuss bringing Bond to the big screen
- Quantum of Solace: The Game - Activision lift the lid on how they produced the new 007 videogame
- Writing Bond - Five authors dissect Ian Fleming's creation: 007's past, present and future
- The Bond Connection - Actor Jean Dujardin on how he brought 007's predecessor OSS 117 back to the silver screen
- The Last Word - Artist Richie Fahey takes Bond back to '60s with pulp paperback designs

Issue #4 is now shipping around the world. To order online, visit www.mi6magazine.com

David Smith

Editor

pr@mi6magazine.com